DANGER IN CHANGES.

Radicalism Likely to Take the Place of Conservatism.

Records Are Sometimes Made With Injury to Railroads.

The past few months have been remarkable as a period of general turning over and shaking up of railway staffs. suys the Railway Review. An unprecedented number of heads of departments have been changed, since effort been made to energize the corps of each department by the infusion of new blood, and there seems to be a general awakening to the fact that good enough is not sufficient—that men are required in each department who have a peculiar talent for their particular avocation—that talented men are a positive dividendial necessity, and as such, are worthy of their hire. This is as it should be, since such general upheaval has in many cases afforded the man of real ability a chance to exhibit his qualifi-ability a chance to exhibit his qualifications.

All this is a very desirable state of affairs—one which is a matter of considerable gratification to those interested in the progress of railway management and operation—one which enables many able men to bring their light out from under the bushel and permits them to produce most satisfactory and even unhoped-for results. But is it not possible that steps too far in this direction may be taken? Can not the pendulum be swung toward radicalism, beyond the point of possible improvement, to as undesirable a degree as it has hung back in the other direction on the old-fogy side of conservation?

And too great radicalism cause a disruption and demoralization of an entirely efficient department?

Good men are hard to find, New blood does not always mean better work.

on the old-fogy side of conservatism? And too great radicalism cause a disruption and demoralization of an entirely efficient department?

Good men are hard to find. New blood does not always mean better work. Simply setting a department in an uproar does not insure efficient results any more than a smooth and quietly running department signifies dry rot. In many cases there seems to be a cycle in which department lives revolve. The motive power statistics show that a new man on a neighboring line is apparently running his department on a little less money.

The result of an inquiry brings out the fact that our man is disinclined to sacrifice the best interests of his department according to his views, to a strife for records. His department is running smoothly, the men are satisfied, the rolling stock is in good condition, and all work is well in hand. It has taken some time to bring about this state of affairs and he is disinclined to fall behind again merely in order to compete with the new man on the neighboring road. Day at Lake Contrary.

The Santa Fe shop men's picnic, which was held at Lakeside Park. St. Joseph, on Saturday, was as usual a big success. The attendance was something over 2,000. The first section of the excursion train left the Topeka depot at 6 o'clock and arrived in St. Joseph at about 9. The other two sections arrived by 10 o'clock.

The day's festivities started off with the ball game in the morning. The same was between the "Reds" and the "Rounders." It was a one-sided game from the start, the Reds winning by a score of 13 to 6.

A prize was offered to the ball player making the best average. In this contest three men tied. They were Sullivan, Thompson and Sherman. Sherman won the contest on a draw.

The 100-yard foot race, the standing broad jump, the running broad jump and the standing high jump were each won by George Sherman. The prizes were a silk shirt, a pair of silk suspenders, a silk umbrelia and a $3 hat. In the 160-yard foot race, apprentice class, the prize, a box of cigars, was given to Walter Tasker.

Hanna is right, and that I can do more to help Mr. McKinley by running in New York state than I can by being on the mational ticket."

There were several rumors last night that Roosevelt had at last agreed to stand for the nomination. These rumors probably arcse from the fact that he had said that, if his nomination was finally forced, he could not decline it, but he said emphatically that he would not allow Mr. Platt to present his name and would fight against the nomination to the last minute.

The attention both of delegates and other visiting politicians yesterday was concentrated upon the movement in the interest of Governor Roosevelt as a vice presidential candidate. The Pennsylvania delegation met early in the day and it was soon announced that the state delegation had taken a positive position for the governor for second place on the ticket. The announcement was soon followed by the statement which was made upon excellent authority that Colonel Quay and Senator Platt and others in sympathy with them had held a conference and had decided upon a plan of campaign, which was intended to bring Roosevelt to the front as a candidate, stampede the convention for him and force his acceptance of the nomination.

Among others who were taken into the confidence of Quay and Platt was National Committeeman Sanders, who has been doing zealous work in bringing over the intermountain states to the support of Roosevelt's candidacy. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, and Senator Wolcott of Colorado, are both in the movement, and the managers are claiming the votes not only of the New York and Pennsylvania delegates, but of California, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana and Illinois, as well as of many others. All this, of course, is on the support of Roosevelt's candidacy. Senator Penrose of the colonel—who announced the belief that his position is the result of antagonism on his part to Senator had cast his influence against him in the senate by gubernatorial appointment. senator had cast his influence against him in the senate by gubernatorial appointment. It was asserted by those in a position to know that Roosevelt's acceptance in case of his nomination was assured, but this was not put upon stronger ground that that Senator Platt had given his assurances. There can be no doubt, however, regardless of Roosevelt's own position, that he is to be the Platt-Quay candidate, and they feel safe in the confidence that he will not decline the office if it is forced upon him. The development in Mr. Roosevelt's behalf had the effect of bringing former Secretary Bliss conspicuously velt's behalf had the effect of bringing former Secretary Bliss conspicuously forward as the opposing candidate, and the fact was announced by those very close to him that he would accept if nominated. result.

The Democrats have, so it is reported, advised Martin to keep out of the contest this year. One of the reasons for this position is the fact that the candidacy of Martin two years ago caused some friction among the fusionists, John Madden of Emporia was regarded as the logical candidate but he surrendered his ambitions and gave way to Martin who was nominated by the two purties and then went to defeat. There are men in the district now who claim that Madden could have defeated Miller and this opinion is largely responsible for the advice to Martin to keep out.

ment prepares the body for the strain spon it, and preserves the symmetry of form. Morana's Farrard also obviates all the danger of child-birth and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing, and thousands gratefully tell of the great good it has done them. Sold by all druggists at $1 to per bottle.

Our little book telling all about this great remedy, will be sent free to any address by The Bradfield Regulator Company, Atlanta Georgia.
